ABSTRACT

The aim of this platform is to develop a web application that serves as a comprehensive platform for job seekers and employers in the local community.The web application provides an effective solution to address the challenges faced by both unemployers and shop owners in their search for suitable job opportunities and employees, respectively.

This web application offers a user-friendly interface where job seekers can easily access information about current vacancies available in their locality.the web application ensures secure communication channels between job seekers and employers,

For employers, the web application streamlines the process of finding the right employees based on their specific requirements. Shop owners can create profiles outlining their criteria and conditions for potential hires, allowing them to connect with qualified candidates efficiently. This centralized location facilitates seamless communication, enabling both parties to interact, schedule interviews, and share relevant details about job opportunities.

In conclusion, this web application serves as a powerful tool for local job seekers and employers, offering a centralized hub where they can conveniently search, apply, and communicate about available job opportunities. By addressing the needs of both parties and providing valuable resources, this platform contributes to the overall improvement of employment prospects within the local community.
